While light that is visible helps us to see, detect and recognize different things, the invisible spiritual light enables us not to look at them as different. Rather, it enlightens us to see them as a manifestation of only one indivisible source. When that same source dwells in our heart, our mind attains the state of oneness in which the love, compassion, bliss, and selflessness would naturally arise from within.

1) Source of Light

Like the Sun, the biggest and brightest lighthouse, in our solar system that emits all the light that lights up Moon, Earth, and other planets, one who is the source of light can only give us the same with which we can shine and serve.

The sun does not discriminate between the crops belonging to one farmer and the other;

The moon gives its light to all, regardless of appearance, good or bad

2) Universal constant

$$E=mc^2$$

But what does the Albert Einstein's famous equation really mean? ... The c stands for the speed of light, a universal constant, so the whole equation breaks down to this: Energy is equal to matter multiplied by the speed of light squared. – Source: Google

As per famous scientist Einstein, All the matter that we see is equal to Energy. It is also important to note that there is a Universal constant, the speed of the light is a contributing factor.

Similarly, to see the whole universe as a manifestation of that supreme energy, we need that spiritual light which we may call supreme consciousness or Universal Intelligence or God-knowledge. In the consciousness of which, one realizes that each one of us is a spark of the same divine entity.

'Know one, Believe one and Be one. – Satguru Baba Hardev Singh ji Maharaj ji.

As a camera's flashlight makes our true image be reflected in the film, the flashlight of God-knowledge enables us to see the same true image of our own in everyone. As a result of that, we serve all selflessly with love and without expecting anything in return from them who is being served.

3) Supreme Guide

The True Master reveals God, all pervading, within and without.

—Avatar Bani, Shabad 269

Light is needed throughout our journey and it is not for only one moment. The continuously repeated guidance from Satguru helps us to cross the ocean of materialism with bliss, happiness, love, compassion and peaceful coexistence.

To spread out the same light received from our True Master, we need to imbibe and make Gyan our life style as it is mentioned by Satguru Mata Savinder Hardev Ji Maharaj in one of her discourses.

We need to make GYAN our lifestyle. – Satguru Mata Savinder Hardev Ji Maharaj.

If you cannot be a candle, Be Mirror that reflects the Light – Satguru Baba Hardev Singh ji Maharaj.

4) Light in the Stormy night

O' God, I do not see any other shore, Thou art the only support I rely upon.

We need to stay in the constant awareness of God and stay in the company of enlightened saints to enlighten our minds to the fullest extent possible which leads to peaceful and happy life.

Sometimes, there may be situations that we have to travel by car on highways while heavy rain is pouring on the roads. At the same time car's windshield wipers were busy in erasing all the water that is glaring our vision.

In that situation where we cannot see the way properly, the only way that we make our way is by looking at the glittering backlights of the car traveling before us in the same direction as ours. The lights of that car help us to stay in the lane and travel safely. Similarly, our Car's backlights might be helping someone else who is following us in the same lane.

5) Conclusion
